

What is the liberal Democratic plan for Medicare? Nothing. Absolutely nothing.

MEDICARE AND OLDER WOMEN

(Ms. BROWN of Florida asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. BROWN of Florida. Mr. Speaker, Medicare is a social contract between the Federal Government and the American people. Nearly 20 million older women, many of them in Florida, have come to rely on quality health care under this program.

However, the sad fact is that women age 65 and over already spend an average of $2,827 for acute health care alone—33 percent of the median annual income of older women.

We must support and strengthen Medicare so that it can do more—not less—especially toward paying for prescription drugs and long-term care.

Until there is comprehensive health care reform, the Medicare Program must be protected from cuts that will jeopardize older women.

THE MONCADA BARRACKS

(Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. Mr. Speaker, tomorrow marks the 42d anniversary of Castro's nighttime attack on the Moncada barracks in Santiago de Cuba, an event which led to the emergence of Castro's rebel army and his ultimate triumphant, yet, as we were later to learn, tragic ride into Havana in 1959.

Little did many Cubans know that what occurred that night in 1953 was only the preamble to a tyranny that Cuba had not seen before. Tomorrow night my colleagues, the gentleman from Florida [Mr. DIAZ-BALART], the gentleman from New Jersey [Mr. MENENDEZ], and I will host a dinner for our congressional colleagues with the participation of four victims of this 36-year-old tyranny.

Among them will be three former Cuban political prisoners who combined spent over 50 years in prison, one of them being a veteran of the Moncada attack. Also joining us will be a survivor of the latest indiscriminate attack last year by Castro on a tugboat filled with Cuban refugees.

These four individuals will offer firsthand accounts of Castro's thirst for political control of the island and the totalitarian methods he uses to maintain that control.

I urge my colleagues to join us tomorrow night.

NRA/WACO

(Mr. GUTIERREZ asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. GUTIERREZ. Mr. Speaker, when the Republicans cut the size of committee staffs at the beginning of this Congress, I was worried some congressional work would not get done.

Then, I figured out how the new GOP chairmen were going to manage.

As this week's Judiciary Committee hearings prove, they'll simply turn to the National Rifle Association for help.

But what kind of hearings did the NRA help with?

With hearings on welfare reform?

With hearings on health care?

No—with the Waco hearings.

Hearings where the actions of law enforcement agents were called into question—the same agents that the NRA calls thugs.

Hearings where laws combating the dangerous proliferation of guns are a central issue—the same laws that the NRA wants to wipe off the books.

When I entered Congress 2 years ago, I thought that the gun lobby had too large a role to play in the backrooms of Congress.

Now, it's obvious that they've moved from the backrooms to the committee rooms.

We do not even have to call them the gun lobby these days—because now, they do not even have to do their dirty work in the lobbies anymore.

MEDICARE AT A CROSSROADS

(Mrs. SEASTRAND asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. SEASTRAND. Mr. Speaker, Medicare is at a crucial crossroads. President Clinton's Medicare board of trustees stated in their April 1995 report, and I quote “. . . the fund is projected to be exhausted in 2001 . . .” In other words, if we do nothing—as the liberal Democrats suggest—millions of Medicare recipients will be denied services. But, the obstructionist liberals would rather criticize the strengthening of Medicare than do something to save it. Medicare is a large Government bureaucracy that does not offer the degree of choice seniors deserve. Republicans are going to strengthen and simplify Medicare by controlling its skyrocketing costs and giving seniors more choices in services. Everyone agrees that Medicare is going broke, but only the Republicans in Congress are posing a solution to that problem. I invite my colleagues from the other side of the aisle to end their empty rhetoric and join our effort to save Medicare.
